Brian Coyne grew up on a Registered Holstein Farm in Wisconsin, and spent his youth showing and fitting cattle at sales and shows around the country. After graduation from the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 2011, Brian worked as a herd manager for Crave Brothers Farm and Heatherstone Enterprises before being hired as a genetic consultant for Select Sires, Inc. where he spent five years working with farmers to increase the genetic potential of their herds. Recently Brian relocated to Select Sires Headquarters in central Ohio where he works with the IT department building the next generation of genetic consulting programs.

Brian was a member of the 2010 National Champion Collegiate Dairy Judging team and holds the record for the high score in the history of the National Judging Contest. In eight years judging professionally, Brian has judged more than 60 shows in nine states. In his spare time Brian enjoys spending time with his girlfriend and their four dogs and is an avid bass fisherman.
