Chris Hill resides in Thurmont, Maryland with his wife Jennifer. Together they own and operate MD-Hillbrook Sales Service, a sales and auctioneering business. Chris manages and assists with approximately 35 sales a year throughout the United States and Canada including the popular March Madness Sale Series which debuted in 1996 and still continues. In 2017 he co-managed his first “virtual” sale, Music City Celebration. This sale “celebrates” all facets of the registered dairy cattle business and engages people in a fun location. His true passion is auctioneering which has allowed him to work with many people in the industry from herd dispersals to elite consignment sales, always with the same goal of getting the maximum dollar for sellers. He and his wife maintain a small inventory of elite show cattle and have bred/owned 50+ All-American nominations over the last 10 years.

Chris has judged many county, district, state and national shows in the United States, Canada, Argentina and Brazil. He has officiated the Hoard's Dairyman Holstein Judging Class and has served on the All-American Judges Panel for all seven breeds. In 2014 he traveled to Uruguay to serve on a panel of coaches for the South American Judging Conference. Chris has served as the official judge for Holsteins, both open and Junior, Jersey, Red and White and Brown Swiss breeds at World Dairy Expo. Chris has had the honor of judging six times at the All-American Dairy Show. He was the recipient of the coveted Klussendorf-MacKenzie award presented at World Dairy Expo in 2002.

Top five most significant judging experiences:

- World Dairy Expo - Holstein 2000
- World Dairy Expo - Jersey 2002
- World Dairy Expo - Red & White 2009
- World Dairy Expo - Brown Swiss 2016
- Royal Winter Fair - Associate Judge 2012

Besides judging type conformation classes, this judge also enjoys:
