Luke Olson currently works for Merck Animal Health as a ruminant sales territory manager for northern Minnesota dealing with both beef and dairy cows. He also helps operate his family's 50 cow dairy farm comprising of mostly Registered Holsteins with 10 Jerseys and one Brown Swiss. He thoroughly enjoys judging and was about to have his first international judging experience this past spring at the Dominican Republic National Show which was subsequently postponed due to the Covid-19 pandemic. He loves the dairy industry and looks forward to judging many more shows in the future.

Top five most significant judging experiences:

- High Individual at the WDE Intercollegiate Dairy Judging Contest
- District 1 Holstein Show in Rochester, MN
- South Dakota State 4-H Show

Besides judging type conformation classes, this judge also enjoys:

- Youth Shows
- Showmanship
