Katie Coyne owns Mill Wheel Show Clinics and travels coast to coast teaching fitting and showmanship skills to youth, parents, leaders and judges. She developed and presented at the first-ever Showmanship judges workshop held in the US at the World Dairy Expo, where she has served as the Fitting and Showmanship superintendent for many years. She has been on the Holstein USA judges list since its inception, scoring high marks at each of the conferences she has attended. Coyne has also attended two judges workshops in Ontario, Canada and plans to pursue her judging credentials there as well. She has judged shows in 17 states and at all levels of competition. She and her family have bred, owned and developed over 75 All American nominations in Holstein, Brown Swiss, Jersey and Red and White breeds.

Top five most significant judging experiences:

- Georgia State Fair 2020
- Florida State Fair
- Utah State Jersey Show 2021
- Premier National Junior Show Showmanship
- Wisconsin State Fair Junior Holstein Show

Besides judging type conformation classes, this judge also enjoys:

- Youth Shows
- Showmanship
