

Sheri Lloyd

Middleburgh, NY

413.770.3064

mapledownshaystraw@gmail.com

Sheri grew up on her family's registered Holstein farm in Canaan, CT. Currently, Sheri lives with her husband Greg and daughter Hallie on Maple Downs Farms II where they are actively involved with their family dairy and crop operation. They milk 150 Registered Holsteins and crop 900 acres in Middleburgh, NY.

Sheri enjoys judging all breeds, and especially enjoys working with youth in the show ring or at fitting, showing, and judging clinics. Within her role as a high school agriculture teacher and junior Holstein club advisor, she coaches dairy enthusiasts with dairy bowl and judging. She is involved as a Young Farmer Cooperator of their farm's AgriMark Cooperative and is a devoted advocate for the dairy industry.

Sheri credits her mom and grandfather for her passion and interest in judging, as well as her college mentors who have helped pave the way for her passion of dairy judging. While attending SUNY Cobleskill and Cornell University, Sheri was on both collegiate judging teams who placed in the top 3 teams at all National Contests.

Top five most significant recent judging experiences:

- Washington County Fair Youth Show, Easton, NY
- Vermont State Youth Show, Swanton, VT
- All-American Dairy Showmanship, Harrisburg, PA
- Wyoming County Youth Holstein Show, Pike, NY
- NY Spring Show Showmanship, Syracuse, NY

Besides judging type conformation classes, this judge also enjoys:

- Youth Shows
- Showmanship