

Terry Rawn

Anselmo, NE
301.788.5532
terawn@gmail.com

Terry Rawn grew up and worked on his family's corn, soybean, wheat, and Registered Holstein farm in central Ohio. He graduated from Virginia Tech in 1985. Following college, he worked in the artificial insemination business for twenty years. He has managed dairy farms across the United States and is currently in Nebraska.

Rawn has judged many shows in at least seventeen states and enjoys both the type and production sectors of the livestock industry. He has had the pleasure to serve as an official at the World Dairy Expo Post-Secondary Judging Contest in Madison, Wisconsin since 2006.

Terry and his wife, since 1986, Joy, have three daughters. Rachel, a graphic-artist in Pearland, Texas, Mary a CPA that works for Samaritans Purse, based in Liberia, Africa, and Annie, a 3-sport athlete, and high school student, in Houston, Texas.

Top five most significant recent judging experiences:

- State Fair of Louisiana – Shreveport, LA
- Nebraska “Cream of the Crop” – West Point, NE (twice)
- Illinois State Junior Holstein Show – Bloomington, MN
- Pennsylvania State Junior Holstein Show – Harrisburg, PA
- Los Angeles County Fair – Pomona, CA

Besides judging type conformation classes, this judge also enjoys:

- Youth Shows
- Showmanship