Travis Couch lives in Huntingdon, Pa. with his wife Rebecca and four daughters, Lydia, Emily, Kensington, and Rowynn. He owns and operates Lakevue Farm where they milk 100 head of Holstein, Red & White, Brown Swiss, and Jerseys. He graduated from Penn State University and returned home to farm in partnership with his parents until he purchased the farm in 2015. In his final year at Penn State, he decided to participate on the judging team and discovered a fondness for judging over the years. He has exhibited cows at various local, county and state shows, and a few times at World Dairy Expo.
