

Kevin Jacobs

Ste-Brigitte des Saults, QC

819.817.4216

fermeintense2012@hotmail.com

Top five most significant judging experiences:

- Atlantic Spring Show
- Supreme Jersey Show
- Expo St-Hyacinthe
- Expo St-Agapit
- Expo St-Isidore

In addition to judging conformation classes, this judge also enjoys:

- Youth Shows
- Showmanship

Kevin Jacobs grew up in the village of Cap-Santé on the Ferme Jacobs family. He has always been involved in the work of the farm. He knew very early, that he had a love of genetics, but especially of showing cattle. After going to school he continued his studies in dairy production. Subsequently, he worked in Wisconsin on the Willow Edge Farm for three months. Later he was hired at Morsan Farm where he worked for a year and a half. In this place, several responsibilities were entrusted to him. Here he gained confidence and realized that he had the skills needed for herd management and animal preparation for the show. This led him to Gen-Com, where he became herd manager and exhibition manager for two years. With a good team, they exhibited rows of cows at shows such as the World Dairy Expo and the Royal Winter Fair.

Since 2012, he has his own farm - Ferme Intense, with my wife Stéphanie Benoit and three kids, Eddy, Louis, and Rose. They milk 60 cows and have 120 heads total of Holsteins and Jerseys. They show and have bred some cattle that has done well in Madison. They have had three successful sales at their farm. He managed during two years the Vente Classique sale in Quebec. Also, he has worked numerous sales as ringman and reading pedigrees in Canada and the US. He feels it is a huge privilege to be able to judge animals that farmers raise and exhibit with passion and determination. He has been fortunate to judge for eight years throughout Canada.