Sean Johnson and his wife Heather reside in Glenville, Pa. with their two children Liam and Paige. Sean's 30-year dairy career started at Maple Dell Farm in Woodbine, MD, a 200 cow Registered Holstein and Ayrshire herd. He continued his career at Garstlyn Farms care taking for elite show and genetic cattle from across the country. Before operating his own hoof trimming business for thirteen years, Sean was a full-time fitter working with many All-Americans and nominations for all breeds.

Currently, Sean is an area sales manager for Premier Select Sires in Maryland and Pennsylvania. Sean has judged many state, regional, and national shows including 9 times at the Pennsylvania All-American, once at NAILE in Louisville, KY and twice as an associate at World Dairy Expo. He has also judged internationally in Ecuador.
