Jeff is a lifelong breeder of holstein cattle. As part owner of Price-View farm with his dad Terry Price and brother Joe Price, Jeff has been part of several All-Americans and Junior All-Americans along with many nominations over the last 40 some years. Jeff has judged hundreds of county 4-H and open shows throughout the midwest during that time. Jeff has recently retired from teaching after 31 years. Jeff enjoys working with youth and strives to make a difference in there lives. Jeff has been married to his lovely wife Staci since 1990 and they have four grown children. They currently have one grandson. Being a full time teacher and raising a family limited Jeff's judging over the last 20 years, but with more free time he is eager to get back to one of his passions of judging dairy cattle.
