

KYLIE KONYN

Ithaca, NY
760.532.9498
kylie@konyndairy.com

Top five most significant judging experiences:

- WI State FFA Judging Contest Official - April 2025
- High Individual: National Intercollegiate Judging Contest - October 2024

Kylie Konyyn grew up on her family's Holstein dairy in Escondido, CA, where she helped manage their 900-cow herd. From an early age, she was actively involved in breed associations and developed her own registered Holstein herd under the Aspire prefix. Her family also raises registered Jerseys and Brown Swiss. A graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Madison with a degree in Dairy Science, Kylie excelled in collegiate dairy judging, earning top-five honors in all major contests and claiming the high individual title at the 2024 World Dairy Expo Collegiate Judging Contest. She is currently pursuing her master's at Cornell University, focusing on nutrition and transition cow health. Beyond judging, Kylie is an accomplished showman with several Junior and All-American nominations across the three breeds. She has exhibited at county, state, and national levels and has earned top showmanship honors at multiple national events. Kylie has also worked as a string hand for several farms at national shows. Kylie enjoys mentoring youth in the dairy industry, helping to inspire the next generation of dairy enthusiasts.