Sherry Smith's dairy roots began on her family's Registered Brown Swiss farm in Greenwich, Ohio. Over the years, those roots expanded to include Holsteins and Jerseys. She enjoys her career as a Dairy Nutrition Consultant and as the Ohio 4-H Dairy Program Specialist, where her duties include coaching the Ohio 4-H Dairy judging teams. In the past, Sherry served as the PR/sales coordinator for the Ohio Holstein Association and is presently Secretary of the Ohio Brown Swiss Association and serves on the National Brown Swiss Board of Directors.

Sherry has judged many local, state and national level shows since earning her degree from The Ohio State University, where she was on the dairy judging team. The most notable moments of her judging career, include being associate judge for the 2014 World Dairy Expo Brown Swiss show and judging several national shows at both the North American and the All- American Dairy Shows.

She enjoys viewing the ring from the other side and has numerous All- American Brown Swiss nominations, as well as Holstein nominations as part of K-Land Holsteins. Sherry and her husband Neal live in Glenford, Ohio.
